About the Programme

At I Have a Voice, we ran a survey to find out what young people in our network care about most. The results were loud and clear: you want to do more for climate action and sustainability.

So, we created ParkLife Climate Action!

This one-week summer programme is designed to support young people across West Yorkshire to create real, local climate solutions.

Together, we'll look at how we can reimagine West Yorkshire's parks and green spaces to increase climate resilience (helping our environment bounce back from extreme weather) and advocate for a greener, healthier future. We will all have a trip to a TikTok-famous allotment and a Nature Reserve.

Why Join Us?

Connect with other passionate young people in West Yorkshire.
- Gain real-world skills.
Learn about nature-based solutions, teamwork, and campaign design.
- Make your voice heard.
Pitch your ideas directly to local decision-makers who can help make them happen!

Bringing it to life. We'll spend the day visiting a TikTok-famous allotment and a Nature Reserve, and you'll pitch your ideas to local leaders.

In-Person Agenda

Our in-person day is going to be packed with hands-on activities, fresh air, and opportunities to connect with Bradford decision-makers.

Here are some of the key highlights to look forward to (if you choose to take part!):

We are so excited to have TikTok creator @Zahabiculture joining us! They'll be taking us on an exclusive allotment tour to show us the magic of sustainable, local food growing up close.

"The ParkLife Summer Scheme is incredibly important because it gives young people a vital platform to turn climate anxiety into positive local action.

For my generation, environmental issues aren't a hobby they affect our future, and this programme empowers us by building a community, teaching real advocacy skills, and amplifying our voices.

I've previously partnered with Climate Action Leeds and it has shown me that young people have the passion and drive to tackle the climate crisis head-on. We just need the space and opportunity to prove that local action truly creates global change.

I am excited to take part in this summer programme too!"
